

For all the problems where you are asked to do something with the direction field, you can print out the field and then draw whatever you need to draw by hand. Alternatively, you can use a tablet.